

FREEDOM

Our freedoms are many and should be shared by all

That is not always the case in our world

The world is filled with some who take

Those whose freedom are taken cry loudly

We hear their cries and weep

We longingly wish for them

This same wonderful freedom

That we have

In this

America